ITALIAN SOLDIER THROWING A GRENADE

A remarkable photograph of warfare as conducted by the Italian troops who are beating back the Austrians high in the mountains. The camera caught this soldier in a first line trench at the moment when with arm drawn back to the utmost he poised ready to hurl his death-dealing missile into the enemy's trench.

DEALERS IN FOOD PRODUCTS MUST GET LICENSE AT ONCE

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—All dealers in food products who have gross receipts amounting to $100,000 or more at once should write the License Division, U. S. Food Administration, Washington, for blanks on which to fill out their applications for authority to do business. The President's proclamation takes effect November 1, so the time is short. The only exemptions as present, according to a telegram from Washington are in ice cream manufacturers, confectioners, bakers, hotels and restaurants.

The rules seek to limit business profits to the normal amount in ordinary years, to keep food products moving from producer to consumer, discouraging speculation and hoarding and to limit contracts as far as possible. Monthly sworn reports will be required, which will be confidential and yet may be a basis for investigation and possible punishment for violation.

DOUBLE TRIAL HAD LAST NIGHT IN THE KANGAROO COURT

Last night the Tombstone kangaroo court kangarooed again when a double trial was conducted at headquarters and two model Tombstone young men in the persons of L. R. Jack and S. P. Moore, who had fallen by the wayside and took unto themselves brides, were the victims. When it was learned that they were in the city, court was hastily organized while a large number of spectators assembled to watch the fun. Fully two hours was consumed in the double trial in which startling and damaging testimony was revealed, ending with the quick verdict of guilty and the usual stiff fine of treats for the house and sentence to be taken five miles out of town and be made to walk back. The defendants were sports, however, and offered no resistance and took their medicine while wives waited patiently at home for the return of their bunnies, who were none the worse for their harsh treatment, although probably a particle footsore. Mr.

FIRE IN CLIFTON CAUSES $100,000 PROPERTY DAMAGE

CLIFTON, Oct. 20—This morning at ten o'clock fire was discovered in the roof of the Arizona Copper Company's electric warehouse and shop just back of the A. C. drug store and before the flames were controlled the building and most of its contents were consumed. A high wind was blowing and it required the best efforts of the fire department to prevent the flames from spreading to the adjacent stores and warehouses. The loss is a very serious one and while as yet no figures on the damage have been given out it is estimated that the loss will total between $75,000 and $100,000, as the building was full of valuable electric equipment of all kinds from light bulbs and flat irons to mammoth motors and other expensive machinery. The origin of the fire has not been determined but as it started in the roof at that time of day it is believed to have started from crossed wires.

SENATOR SMITH ARRIVES IN ARIZONA FROM WASHINGTON

DOUGLAS, Oct. 20—Mark A. Smith, United States senator from this state, arrived here yesterday on his return from Washington. He will remain until tonight and then leave for his home at Tucson.

Senator Smith is much fatigued from the continued session of the senate and said he was glad to be back in Arizona. It was hoped he would be able to address the people of this city next Wednesday, but he will not be here on that day, it is said.

ARIZONA CATTLE RUSTLERS HAVE BEEN SUBDUED

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—"The cattle rustlers in Santa Cruz County are on the run," declared Ed W. Stephens, secretary of the state livestock sanitary board. "The recent round-up of rustlers in that locality has done much good, and although it is almost impossible at present to secure convictions, the cattlemen at least get their stock back, which is something they never have been able to do heretofore."

"While the campaign against these stock thieves has been quite expensive," added Mr. Stephens, "the cattlemen are very well satisfied and appreciate the fact that while the cattle rustlers are able to terrify the stock men and thus keep them from testifying against the thieves in court the state authorities can do no more."

"The state livestock sanitary board is going to keep up the fight against the rustlers, however, until they are run out of the state. It is a fact that the rustlers have threatened the cattlemen, and the owners fear to testify against them in court, under threat that their stock will be run off and their buildings burned. The outlaws will resort to anything, even to killing the cattle. The stockmen, rather than take any part in the prosecution of the cases, will let them go. Thus the condition is encouraged. The stockmen say that the outlaws are too strong for them; that they can't afford to fight them. But the livestock board is going to continue after the rustlers."

IDENTIFICATION CARDS FOR SOLDIERS FROM THIS STATE

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—Secretary Smalley of the State Council of Defense has dispatched to General Wood, commanding Camp Funston 3500 of the cards lately prepared by the new Welfare committee for the accurate listing of every Arizona soldier for the period of the war. Eight hundred of the same cards go to Linda Vista, Cal., to Lieut. Col. H. H. Donkersley, commanding the Arizona National Guard Regiment now the 148th infantry. These cards will be filled with all desired data and returned to the local office, where they will be left, corrected at need, and so filed that every Arizona soldier's location, rank and status can be learned instantly at need.

I. W. W. AGITATOR IS BOUND TO FEDERAL COURT FOR TRIAL

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—Herbert McCrutchon, an I. W. W. agitator, was given a preliminary hearing Thursday and bound over to the district court of Illinois, his bond being fixed at $10,000. McCrutchon will be returned to Chicago to face trial for violation of the espionage act.

Preliminary hearing of charges against six other I. W. W.'s will be held this week.

FIRE CAUSES BIG PROPERTY LOSS IN TOWN OF MIAMI

GLOBE, Oct. 19—Fire breaking out in a small dwelling in the Mexican section of Miami, directly behind Miami's business section, tonight destroyed 12 other structures, threatened the new $100,000 Y. M. C. A. and several frame business blocks and was finally extinguished after causing a loss of $20,000. At one time the flames spread to a rooming house wherein a large number of sleeping miners, men just off shift, were lodged. The sleepers were routed out and the spreading flames checked. The town's water supply proved inadequate to handle the fire but water and hose help from the Miami Copper company saved the threatened district.

RAILWAY ACTS TO BE PROBED BY THE ARIZ. COMMISSION

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—Five separate hearings that closely affect theatrical companies travelling in Arizona, will be held in Phoenix on Wednesday, Oct. 31, before the state corporation commission. They are on the application of the Arizona Eastern, Southern Pacific and El Paso & Southwestern railroads for authority to change tariffs and rules as follows:

To abandon the present reduced rates to theatrical companies and shows traveling over these lines in Arizona. Limiting the number of head of livestock that can be transported in special baggage cars to five head of horses and ponies. Increasing the rates now charged for transportation of such special baggage cars over the named railroad lines in the state.

TOMBSTONE WILL MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN LIBERTY BONDS

While encouraging reports regarding the sale of Liberty Bonds in other parts of Cochise county are coming, the Tombstone committee, who have been at work since Monday, report that Tombstone and district will make an excellent showing when the date of closing comes.

Yesterday the committee composed of Capt. A. C. Lockwood, E. A. Hughes, A. C. Karger and J. T. Kingsbury, visited Wilcox, Johnson, Gleeson, Courtland and Pearce, and report most gratifying results from their visit to these places. At Gleeson and Pearce a large number of subscribers were obtained, while at Courtland and Wilcox meetings were held and local committees aided in making a drive. At Johnson over $4,000 was subscribed in about an hour, while Gleeson and Pearce made excellent showings also, the exact amount not being estimated as yet, since the local committee are yet at work.

According to Captain Lockwood of the team Tombstone will make a far better showing than was anticipated and when the last day comes Tombstone will have subscribed between $30,000 and $40,000 worth of bonds.

DOUGLAS NO. 1 IS UP AGAIN IN GOV. CONTEST

PHOENIX, Oct. 20—A discussion of the admissibility of evidence attempting to determine the intention of a voter who had imperfectly or incorrectly marked his ballot, occupied the greater part of this morning's session of the supreme court hearing the appeal of the Hunt-Campbell governorship contest trial.

Both sides in the case have been anxious to have an intimation from the court as to its attitude on this point, inasmuch as it played an important part in the proceedings in the lower court. With only 67 votes plurality for the winner in the election, the disposition of every disputed ballot is of vital importance. Not counting the votes of Douglas No. 1 precinct, upon which the odium of fraud has been placed, there are a large number of votes that are disputed by both sides because each side is claiming numbers from among this class of imperfect marking.

It is admitted by both the appellant and the appellee that the lower court in rendering its decisions on this class of ballots was not consistent. What the final outcome of the decisions to the lower court has meant to the individuals concerned, is not certain, but attorneys for Governor Campbell appear to be anxious that the supreme court admit evidence to determine the intention of the voter.

RODEO OFFICIAL SHOOTS SELF IN HEAD; WILL DIE

DOUGLAS, Oct. 20—I. S. Bonham, postmaster at Rodeo, attempted to commit suicide yesterday afternoon with a .32 caliber pistol. Placing the barrel of the weapon in his mouth, he fired and blew off the front part of his head. The Douglas physicians were called at once. The man was still alive when they left him last night, but there was not much hope for his recovery, and though no report has been received here yet as to his fate, the fact that one of the local undertakers this morning shipped a casket to Rodeo makes it seem probable that it was for Bonham.

The act was committed at Bonham's little home a mile from Rodeo on the Arizona side of the New Mexico boundary line. Bonham sat himself in a hammock on the front porch before firing the shot. Friends notified Deputy Sheriff Gannon of Bisbee, who happened to be in Rodeo, and the latter called the Douglas physicians.

Bonham is a man past middle age. He has a wife and two sons. To friends he left a letter indicating that he was despondent. It was a sad missive setting forth the man's troubles in considerable detail. He said people in Rodeo had sometimes said he was insane, but that it was untrue. He showed his act was entirely premeditated, leaving instructions as to the disposition of his property. "He had lived in Rodeo six or seven years. Lately he had acted strangely. He said in his letter he wanted to be buried without fuss in the clothes in which he died."
